India, officially the Republic of India is the seventh-largest country by area, the second-most populous country with over 1.2 billion people, and the most populous democracy in the world. India is a federal constitutional republic governed under a parliamentary system consisting of 29 states and 7 union territories. A pluralistic, multilingual, and multi-ethnic society, the country is also home to a diversity of wildlife in a variety of protected habitats. Bounded by the Indian Ocean on the south, the Arabian Sea on the south-west, and the Bay of Bengal on the south-east, it shares land borders with Pakistan to the west; China, Nepal, and Bhutan to the north-east; and Myanmar (Burma) and Bangladesh to the east. In the Indian Ocean, India is in the vicinity of Sri Lanka and the Maldives; in addition, India's Andaman and Nicobar Islands share a maritime border with Thailand and Indonesia.

The Camp

Rotary District 3054, invites 30 Youths from across the world for a journey that will give them first hand feel and understanding of incredible India and an opportunity to see some parts of our Rotary district. This camp will surely take them closer to the Indian culture, heritage, philosophy, economics and lifestyle. We believe this will help the youths enhance their knowledge about India, its society and its people. We are sure this camp will also give them some friends for life, and though all our campers will come alone but will surely carry back bouquet of memories for life.

Glimpses of Discover India camps

Testimonials from some of our former campers

If I was only allowed to say one thing about Discover India, I would say: amazing. I would recommend it to everybody because it gave me memories I will never forget. The Indian culture and heritage are wonderful and overwhelming when you come from a small country like Denmark. But Rotary had arranged a great program where we got to see beautiful temples, met with university students our own age, saw the beautiful white desert, experienced traditional dance, saw Taj Mahal and so many other things. It was a really packed program, but it was all worth it. Most importantly the different Rotary clubs and host families invited us in to their lives like we were friends and family from day one. I always felt safe and welcome and that means a lot when you are so far away from home and experiencing a completely different culture. With Discover India, I met so many great people within Rotary and within the campers. We all have a special bond and now I have friends and family all over the world.

Rotary strives to build an international community which will in turn contribute to the spread of world peace. Discover India is one such place where rotary is making great strides in this objective. As a participant, this past January I not only explored the Indian culture on my own, but saw it through the eyes of the many other participants who came from a myriad of cultures. Each perspective helped me truly delve into the complexities of the culture without judgement. I believe my worldview to be vastly broadened by my time in India. Through everything I have seen while in the context of Rotary (both on long-term exchange and Discover India) I have seen again and again the importance of travel and an open mind. The friendships formed through Discover India are forever as are the memories

This January I attended the Discover India Camp. Well, I can tell you: I couldn't make a better choice than doing that. We were such a fun group and we accepted each other the way we are. Together we experienced India, and got to know each other, in the end we were like a huge family.

This was my 4th experience with the Rotary, and they proved again that it is very well-organized organization. If someone was ill, there was always a doctor in the neighborhood. Everywhere were kind guides who spoke perfectly English and who kept our attention. I am very thankful to the Rotary for making this possible.

As a well experienced traveler I have to confirm, that the best way how to explore some country is through the locals. Especially in case of India. We say that from visiting India you can take just two impressions. One is that you feel in love with the country, culture, etc. The second one is that you will never be wanting to come back. Let Your experience put into the first group and explore India with Discover India Camps. In this highly tilted world is very beneficial to understand Indian mentality and culture and know how to cooperate with Indians. Let your experience be the best with Discover India Camps.

On January 2016, I had a great pleasure of participating on discover India camp organized by Bhanu Gupta. It was one of the best organized travel camps I have ever participated at. Thanks to Bhanu and Divya I felt as a part of the Indian community and could discover the purest culture of India.
